In the recent past, we have worked with Cegos Italy and have achieved excellent results, proven by the great satisfaction of our customers. Today, the challenge becomes even more exciting. We will try to bring the know-how of a large group like Cegos in the Italian public administration. For us it is a great privilege."*

Pascal Debordes, head of Channels and Alliances at Cegos Group, adds: "It's a fantastic step for us to broaden our partnership with Dasein; indeed, Cegos Italy has recently designed several bespoke e-learning courses for Dasein. So we know their unique expertise and their fantastic brand awareness in the Italian Public Sector and we also know that more and more this Public Sector is paying attention to off-the-shelf e-learning solutions. This new step in our alliance represents therefore a strong opportunity for the Cegos group to accelerate its development in Italy."
